Toms Corfu Cruise Port Guide: Greece

Includes an Old Town walking tour map of 10 churches, 7 museums, 12 shops, and the fortress plus bus route maps and descriptions of Mon Repos Palace, Achilleion Palace, Paleokastritsa, and St George Bay.

Corfu (Kerkyra in Greek) has a population of 30,000 and is the Capital City of Corfu Island. The island is about 40 miles long and 20 miles wide. It is North and West of the Greek Coast separated from the mainland by a narrow channel. The mainland directly East and North of Corfu is Albania. See aerial photo at right.

Like other Greek Islands, Corfu is beautiful, surrounded by crystal clear seas. Unlike other islands, Corfu has an elegant, cosmopolitan Capital City with impressive architecture, palaces, fortresses, castles, churches, monasteries, museums, squares, monuments, shops, and restaurants. Corfu is also a “green island” with lush vegetation due to the moderate climate and 43 inches of rainfall a year. In July-August, the average high temperature is 88 F and rainfall is 0.3 – 0.7 inch.

Corfu has over 40 beautiful beaches, many resort areas, and mountains; it is a popular vacation destination. The views are stunning and there are many things to do, so plan ahead for your brief stay on the island when your cruise ship docks.

You could spend your entire day in Corfu Town which is only 1.8 Km from the cruise ship dock.

I have included details and maps on things to see and do in Corfu Old Town. I've also described a driving tour or taxi tour of Corfu Island which will take 4-6 hours depending on how long you spend at the different stops.

Cruise ships dock as shown on the map above. It's 1700 feet (520 m) from cruise ships to the Terminal. You could walk, but there's a free interport bus between ships and the Terminal (shown as blue dots on the map).

Check at the Terminal Tourist Desk RE options and cost to get to Old Town the day your ship is in port:

- Usually, there is a public bus in the parking lot near the Terminal. It's 1.50 euro and a ten minute ride to the Old Port Square bus stop next to the entrance to Old Town. The bus runs about every 15 minutes.
- You could walk on paved sidewalks along Ethnikis Antistaseos (shown as the red dashed line on the map above) from the Terminal to the Old Port Square. It's 5900 feet (1.8 km) and will take 23 minutes.

For more guides, see www.TomsPortGuides.com
Options and cost to get to Old Town the day your ship is in port (continued):

- You could take a cab to Old Town. There will be cabs at the Terminal. Find a driver that will take short fares. As a general rule, it costs 5 euros to get into a cab. I'd guess you could get a cab to the Old Port Square for less than 10 euros. You can share the cab with three other people, so cost is reasonable.
- Your ship may provide a shuttle bus to Old Town. Some ships offer the shuttle for free, but most charge ~ 7 euros. I believe that is a round trip charge. Check with your cruise line.

 Usually, the ship's shuttle bus stops at Esplanade-Spianada near Liston as shown on the map below. This is the most scenic/impressive entrance to Old Town.

Overview Map of Key Points Around Corfu Old Town

Old Town is outlined by dashed yellow lines on the map below. Old Town is one of the most beautiful towns in Greece. It's bordered by the New Fortress (St Mark) on the west and the Old Fortress on the east. The main entrances to Old Town are at the Old Port Square and at Esplanade-Spianada. Use either entrance because you'll want to walk through the town which is a relatively small area – note the map scale of 1000 feet.

The Esplanade-Spianada (Liston) square is very scenic with views of the Royal Palace, beautiful gardens, impressive architecture, and access to nearby museums, restaurants, and shops. With the exception of climbing the fortresses, it's easy to walk in Old Town. The streets are pedestrian-friendly and flat.

Corfu International Airport is south of Old Town.

San Rocco Square is important because it's the main public bus station near Old Town. This is a good place to visit if you plan to use public buses.

Why GPS Coordinates Are Important for Corfu Island

Maps for Corfu are hard to find. The best street map I've seen for Old Town is the free map from the Tourist Desk at the cruise ship terminal. I've scanned that map and marked it up for use in this guide.

Street addresses for sites in Corfu are not recognized by Google Maps. Churches, museums, and businesses list a street address on their websites. When enter that address in Google maps, you'll find that Google does not recognize the address and can't find that location.

The common practise in Corfu is to describe locations of sites relative to well known buildings, squares, monuments, or geographical features.

- The Holy Trinity Church website describes it's location as: “We are located behind the Old Ionian Parliament building in Zambeli Street which is behind the Orpheas Cinema, Aspioti Street and along the road from the Bella Venetsia Hotel.”

- Entrance to the New Fortress is described as: “Proceed across the Spilia Square and turn right on Solomos Street. The Church of Tenedos will be on your right as you climb the cobbled steps.”

- Yannis Olive Wood Workshop website describes their location as: “We are in the centre of Corfu Island on the main road from Corfu Town to Paleokastritsa, exactly at the 14th km. You will see our sign on the left that shows our wood carving workshop. Our building is pink.”

- The Synagogue location is described as: “At the Old Port Square, you will see the New Fortress and beyond this is the new cruise ship port. Off to the left of the square is a large gateway, the remains of the 16th-century Porta Spilia. Go through it to get to the Plateia Solomou. Turn left onto Velissariou. As you walk along the street, look on the right for the green doors of the 300-year-old synagogue.”

GPS coordinates are the best/easiest way to locate tourist sites in Corfu.

GPS coordinates are an easy, and precise way to pinpoint locations on Google maps. I have listed GPS coordinates for popular locations in Old Town and many other areas on the island in this port guide. Open this guide in one window on your computer and open Google Maps in a second window. Copy and paste the GPS coordinates into Google maps. Magnify the map scale, zooming in, to see the buildings, roads, sea, etc. in satellite view maps. Enter a series of GPS coordinates into Google map “Get Directions”. Click on the walking man icon, and you'll see a walking route with distance and travel time. Note: there are usually multiple walking routes, Google just shows one. GPS coordinates can be used with any Google or Bing map format such as “map”, “satellite”, “earth”, and “terrain” to see detailed views of the location at any map scale.

These coordinates can also be used in hand-held or vehicle GPS devices. Note that these devices can accept different formats. It's important to set your device to accept data in this format:

Degrees, Minutes, and Seconds shown as N ddd° mm' ss.ss", W ddd° mm' ss.ss”

New Fortress (St Mark – San Marco)
The official name is St Mark (San Marco); the common name is New Fortress. It was completed in 1645 by the Venetians and subsequently occupied and modified by the French, and then the British. It offers impressive views of the old harbor and the town. The fortress is open daily 8:30 to 19:00. Admission ~ 4 Euros.

Before climbing to the top of the New Fortress, view photos of the ramps, walkways, etc., to understand this massive structure. See http://www.in-corfu.com/historic/new_fortress.html

I have shown the entrance near the Old Port Square as point B on the map on the previous page.

GPS = N 39° 37' 28.78", E 19° 55' 2.35".

There is another entrance uphill from the fish and vegetable (Farmers Market). You will see the official emblem of Venice, the winged lion of St Mark, near the gate entrances.

Scuola Greca Synagogue

GPS = N 39° 37' 26.65", E 19° 55' 9.44"

http://esefarad.com/?p=30669  The synagogue is open daily 10 to 4

The Jewish District of Old Town is outlined with yellow lines on the map on the previous page.

Marks & Spencer

GPS = N 39°37′21.9″, E 19°55′11.4″

This is a major UK department store. The Brits love it. Captain Yeomen's of the Ruby Princess told us that he had to stop at Marks and Spencer every time his ship was in Corfu.

Farmers Market

GPS = N 39°37′23.4″, E 19°55′04.3″

The Farmers Market is located next to the New Fortress. It has a beautiful display of fresh fruit, vegetables, flowers, and a large selection of fresh fish. You can also purchase prepared foods and excellent fresh brewed coffee. The market is open every day 6:30 to noon, except Sunday.

Tenedos Church - Our Lady of Mount Carmel

GPS = N 39°37′29.4″, E 19°55′04.7″

The old churches in Corfu have been occupied by different groups. Tenedos Church was originally used as a Catholic Monastery by the Tenedos Monks. When the Ottomans occupied the church, they brought the Icon of the Virgin Mary.

This picture was taken looking to the Southwest from the cruise ship.

I have marked up this map to show location of 10 churches, 7 museums, and 12 stores.

There are over thirty churches in Old Town. They have a lot of history and have been rebuilt over the ages. Many churches have been occupied by different religious groups over the centuries and the name of the church has changed to reflect the latest religious group. Terminology can be confusing because one church can be called by many names. I've listed alternate names to help clear up the confusion.

Most churches are small. Many of them contain beautiful wood carvings, painted ceilings, marble, and precious religious icon paintings.

This website provides a Virtual exploration of the Churches of the City of Corfu, Greece. It was developed as part of the "Digital Presentation of Byzantine Churches in Corfu" to promote the religious culture. With this website you can virtually visit a number of Churches at Corfu, giving the user the opportunity to explore the architecture and interior contents in a way that is similar to being there.

Enjoy your Virtual tour to Corfu Churches

I have included some photos from this website to showcase some the most beautiful churches to help you plan your walking tour of Old Town.

C1 Tenedos Church - Our Lady of Mount Carmel  GPS = N 39°37′29.4″, E 19°55′04.7″

Tenedos Church was established as a Catholic Monastery by Monks who fled invasion of the island of Tenedos Island by the Turks and brought the Icon of the Virgin Mary with them to Corfu.

C2 There are two churches at location C2 on the map

C2 Monastery of San Francesco di Assisi  GPS = N 39°37′31.4, E 19°55′12.9″

It's one of the oldest (~ 13th C) and most important monasteries from an historical perspective. The monastery was first used by nuns, then by monks. It was the first public school in a monastery in the late 1700s and was used as a temporary Cathedral until reconstruction of the Cathedral after WW II.

C2 Saint Antonios and Saint Andreas

GPS = N 39° 37' 30.90", E 19° 55' 11.36"

The holy Temple of Saint Antonios and Saint Andreas was rebuilt in 1753 in place of an older temple, which possibly was first built in the 15th century. Historically it is identified with the church in which the emperor Ioannis Palaiologos functioned when he visited Kerkyra as an intermediary stop in his travel to Florence in 1439, in order to resolve the matter concerning the union of the two churches.

The church belongs to the ecclesiastical Eptanesian basilica one-aisle type and a characteristic element is that it is covered with groined-vaults. In the interior of the temple, the marble chancel screen is significant. It was created by the architect Alexandros Trivolis – Pierris, roughly twenty years after the reconstruction of the temple.

See http://www.corfuchurches.com/content/view/60/72/
C3 Church of Sts Pateres (Fathers) and Arsenios
GPS = N 39°37′27.9″, E 19°55′14.3″
This church was built in the 15th century for refugees. The interior has stone sculptured heads.

C4 AG Theodora Church
GPS = N 39°37′33.00″, E 19°55′16.26″
This church is known by many names. The most common names are: “Orthodox Cathedral”, “Metropolitan Church of Hyperagia Theotokos Spileotissa” i.e. “Corfu Metropolitan Church”, and “Panagia (Virgin Mary) Spilaiotissa”.

This is a must-visit church, photo below see http://www.corfuchurches.com/content/view/54/66/lang,en/

The church is dedicated to three saints; namely, Panagia (Virgin Mary) Spileotissa, St. Vlasios, and St. Theodora. It was built in 1577 and became the Cathedral of Corfu in 1841. Subsequently, the icon of Virgin Mary Dimosiana and the relic of Agia Theodora were moved here.

The church is richly decorated. Relics of St. Theodora are in a silver shrine. Theodora was Empress of the Byzantine Empire and influential with the church. She restored the importance of the icons. The Greek Orthodox Church celebrates the Procession of the Holy Icons the first Sunday of Lent.

C5 There are two churches a short distance apart at point C5 on the map

C5 Panagia (Virgin Mary) Kremasti
GPS = N 39°37′35.3″, E 19°55′18.8″
Built in 16th century, only one of the walls has been preserved.

C5 Pantokratoras
GPS = N 39° 37′ 35.30", E 19° 55′ 22.66"
The church is noted for the carved angel on the roof.

C6 St. Nicholas of Elders (Agios Nikolaos dei Vecchi) Church
GPS = N 39°37′32.6″, E 19°55′21″
Also called “San Nicolo dei Vecchi” see http://www.corfuchurches.com/content/view/55/67/

The Holy Temple of Saint Nikolaos of Geronton, San Nicolo dei Vecchi, was built in the beginning of the 16th century. The building complex of the temple also includes the priest’s residence in its northern side. It was one of the richest churches of Kampielo, the cathedral of the Great Fathers up to year 1712, and in 1916 it was granted to the Serbs. Some very impressive elements in the interior of temple are the sanctuary’s wooden crafted chancel screen and the Pulpit.
C7  St Spyridon Church  GPS = N 39°37'30.5", E 19°55'21.5"

For great photos and a description of the church, see,
http://www.corfuchurches.com/content/view/58/70/lang.en/

Saint Spyridon, Patron Saint of Corfu Island, is honored by both Eastern and Western Christians. He was a shepherd in Cyprus, married, and had a daughter.

When his wife died, he entered a monastery and his daughter became a nun. It is believed that he expelled the plague from Corfu and played a key role in defeating the Turks by appearing as a monk with a lit torch threatening the invaders and instilling fear/panic.

The church contains relics and a silver sarcophagus. It is a magnificent church with marble, icons, a painted

The tower rises high above the city and can be seen from almost anywhere in Corfu Town. The church tower is an important landmark to find your way around Old Town.
There are two churches on opposite sides of the street at C8 on the map

C8 Church of Virgin Mary of Xenon for Foreigners
GPS = N 39°37′28.2″, E 19°55′22.1″
Also called “Panagia of Xenon – Faneromeni”

The holy Temple of Yperagia Theotokos (Virgin Mary) of Xenon was built by the priest Nicodemos, who was from Epirus and wanted to build the church for the refugees from Epirus, who came to Kerkyra after the persecutions during the Ottoman domination.

For excellent photos, see
http://www.corfuchurches.com/content/view/59/71/lang,en/

The photo at left is from this website.

C8 Church of Saint John the Precursor, John the Baptist (Agios Ioannis o Prodromos)
Also called “St. Ioannis Prodromos (the Precursor)”

This church was funded by wealthy families in the 15th century. The church has beautiful marble, painting, icons, frescoes, and contains a shrine with relics.

C9 Cathedral (Duomo) Sts. Jacob & Christopher
GPS = N 39°37′24.8″, E 19°55′21.3″

The Catholic Cathedral dates back to 1364. It was severely damaged by bombing in WWII and rebuilt in 1970. It is located next to Town Hall Square.

C10 Holy Trinity Church
GPS = N 39° 37' 18.18", E 19° 55' 19.24"

Holy Trinity Church was established in 1864. It's an Anglican church that welcomes all denominations.

Museums & Important Buildings in Old Town
(Shown as M1, M2, M3 - - - on the map)

M1 Byzantine Museum (Panagia Antivouniotissa)
GPS = N 39°37′37.9″, E 19°55′21.2″

The museum is at the site of Panagia Antivouniotissa a 15th Century Church, the oldest church in Corfu. The museum displays several religious icons. Hours are 8:30-15:00 Tues-Sunday. Admission ~ 4 euros.
M2 Kapodistrian House   GPS = N 39° 37′36.5″, E 19°55′27.8″

Ioannia Kapodistrias was an important and successful minister of state and ambassador playing a key role in:

- Peacefully uniting the Ionian Islands after Russia and the Ottoman Empire drove out the French,
- Securing unity, independence and neutrality for Switzerland, freeing the country from Napoleon's led French dominance.

The museum displays personal effects, portraits, and furniture of Ioannia Kapodistrias. Hours are 10:30 am to 2 pm. The museum is is closed on Monday.

M3 Ionian Academy University   GPS = N 39°37′33.1″, E 19°55′27.3″

This building dates back to 1824 as the first Greek University in Corfu.

http://www.greek-coins.net/banknotes-museum-corfu/

The Banknote Museum has one of the most extensive collections of coins in the world. The collection includes over 10,000 coins from the entire ancient world and a complete collection of Greek banknotes. It is located at the Ionian Bank on the Cypriot Battle (Iroon) Square, a few blocks South of St Spyridon Church. Hours are 10:00-14:00 Monday-Saturday. Admission is free.

M5 Town Hall   GPS = N 39°37′25″, E 19°55′19″

This impressive building was originally designed as a theater. Today, it is the Town Hall.

M6 Conservatory   GPS = N 39°37’20.6″, E 19°55’24.4″

The conservatory of Corfu is second for importance only to Athens. There are different schools for singing, composition, wind instruments, string instruments, ecclesiastical Byzantine music, etc.

M7 Serbian Museum   GPS = N 39°37′19.6″, E 19°55′19.8″

Exhibits include displays of the lives of Serbian residents and their role in the military.

Liston - Old Fortress Area (Google satellite view)

Liston to the Old Fortress is the most scenic area around Old Town. It has impressive architecture, expansive parks, beautiful gardens, the Royal Palace of Sts Michael & George, the Museum of Asian Art, the massive Old Fortress, etc. This is the place to take postcard photos, shop at high end stores/boutiques, and have lunch at one of the many excellent restaurants. It's a must visit area.

Museum of Asian Art  GPS = N 39°37’33.2″, E 19°55’29.4″
http://www.matk.gr/
The Museum of Asian Art is inside the Royal Palace of Saint Michael and Saint George. The exhibit includes over ten thousand artifacts from Japan (silks, masks, Samurai armor, etc), China (Ming dynasty, jade, statues, statues, etc.), India (wood and bronze sculptures), and objects from Korea and Tibet.

Hours are 8.30am - 3pm from Tuesday to Sunday. Admission is 4 euros.

Municipal Art Gallery of Corfu
GPS = N 39°37′33.2″, E 19°55′29.4″

Located on the eastern side of the palace, the exhibit features many icons and work or Corfu painters. It also has a seafront cafe. It is open Tuesday – Sunday 08:30 -15:00. I believe admission is free.

Royal Palace of St Michael & George
GPS = N 39°37′32.9″, E 19°55′29.3″

Located at the northern end of Spianada Square, the Palace has an impressive facade with stone columns and it is surrounded by beautiful gardens. The Palace was built by the British in the early 1800s.

Church of Virgin Mary Mandrakina

Liston
GPS = N 39°37′28.2″, E 19°55′25.9″

During the French occupancy, the buildings in Liston were constructed for exclusive use by the aristocrats. The impressive arcades remain, but today, the occupants are restaurants and high-end shops.

Cruise ship shuttle bus stop
GPS = N 39° 37' 24.40", E 19° 55' 30.04"

If your cruise ship offers a shuttle bus to Old Town Corfu, it will most likely stop at the square in Esplanade-Spianada as shown on the map on the previous page. The public bus from the cruise terminal building to Old Town drops passengers off at the Old Port Square as discussed previously in this port guide.

Old Fortress Entrance
GPS = N 39°37′24.7″, E 19°55′36″

After Corfu was destroyed by invaders in the 6th Century, a centuries-long construction began to defend the city. The Old Fortress was built on a peninsula East of the town. The Venetians dug a moat turning it into an island and continued to improve the fortress. There are two impressive bastions. The British made additional improvements to the fortress and constructed St George Chapel.

The Old Fortress provides excellent views of the town and Ionian Sea. It is open daily May-October 9:00 to 21:00 Tues-Friday. On Sat-Sun it closes at 15:00. Admission – 4 Euros.

Exploring Corfu Old Town – Comments by David & Adrienne Elgie

If your cruise ship doesn’t provide a shuttle bus to Old Town, the public bus is an excellent alternative. Check at the Tourist Desk in the cruise terminal to determine when the buses are running and where the bus will be located in the parking lot.

In our case, we exited the port terminal building and walked past the taxis for the bus to Old Town. Cost was 1.5 euro one way and the ride was about 10 minutes.

Exit the bus at the Old Port Square. There is a black sign that shows directions to Old Town, Royal Palace, Jewish Synagogue, and Orthodox Cathedral.

The twisted streets of old town are charming. There are many unique churches. St. Spyridon Church stood out as a landmark to orient us while walking in Old Town (photo left).

With Tom’s Port Guide map in hand, we easily navigated the town. Shops line the streets. The cobblestone streets are wide. My wife loves to shop and was very pleased with the selection and uniqueness of goods. We purchased olive wood products, and my wife purchased a dress. The shop keepers were honest and attentive; prices seemed fair.
We went to the Royal Palace of St Michael & St George. The building is beautiful. See the walkway photo at right.

We visited the Museum of Asian Art (photo below left). It's impressive and the admission is only 3 euros. Then we walked through the garden. It's lovely and was cool, on the ocean side, on a hot day.

If you plan to visit the Old Fortress, go in the morning to avoid the afternoon heat. Admission is 4 euros.

Exploring the Old Fortress requires walking on uneven surfaces. Wear comfortable walking/climbing shoes.

The climb up to the lighthouse has many stairs and shiny cobblestone. In places, the cobblestone was slippery, even on a dry, hot day. The view from ground level on the south side of the Old Fortress facing east is shown in the photo above right. You could stay on the ground level of Old Fortress to avoid the climb to the lighthouse, but views from the top are amazing. See photo on next page.
The view from the lighthouse is worth the climb (photo below)

A stop for lunch and a drink or two is a must around Liston. There are many cafes to choose from. We found the service at the cafe to be good. Most cafes have free WiFi; you may need to ask for the password. Once you visit Corfu Old Town, you will see why it is named a World Heritage Site.

Sailing Along the Northeast Coast of Corfu - Comments by Sharon Sumliner

By far, the most relaxed way to enjoy Corfu's magnificent scenery is by boat. Nautilus, meaning seafarer, is a beautifully designed 14-metre motor yacht. We offer mini-cruises, including swimming and fresh fish BBQs on deserted beaches, voyages along Corfu's beautiful northeast coast, and both daytime and evening boat trips to Corfu Town. The yacht is also ideal for private parties with up to 30 guests.

www.dailycruisescorfu.com

My friends and I like to sail in beautiful areas and there are none better than Greece. I made all the arrangements for this fabulous excursion from the US by email. My contact was the captain's wife, Vanessa Wrench. She was great to work with. Her email is nautiluscruisescorfu@gmail.com

They offer public sails, but nothing was reserved for that day, so we opted for the private sail and had the spacious yacht for our party of six people. The price for the private sail was 590 euros, including everything. Our cost was ~ 100 euros/person. I believe the public sail is less expensive.

Our cruise ship docked at 9:00. We had arranged to meet at 10:00. In hindsight, we could have met earlier as our ship was a small one with only 680 passengers so disembarking was very easy and quick. We asked to be dropped back at the port by 4-4:30 because our ship's departure time was 5:00.

Captain Iakis could not have been more accommodating. He confirmed that we would be back at the cruise ship on time. There was no anxiety on our part of being left behind! The captain was very personable.
We were picked up outside the Port Terminal, less than a 3-minute walk. Vanessa had provided a map that was very helpful, along with her's and the captain's mobile phone numbers, in case we needed them.

We sailed up the northeast coast and made two stops for swimming and snorkeling. They provided snorkel equipment - masks and snorkels.

There was ample seating on both the lower deck and up on the sun deck. There's also an area of shade for those who prefer not to be in the sun all day.

A great bathroom made the day complete.

The captain was very accommodating for any dietary restrictions and provided accordingly.

He prepared a barbecue lunch (pork, chicken and fish), along with grilled cheeses, grilled vegetables and a lovely green salad. Wine, both red and white, was included and served.

This company is family owned. They were extremely responsive on emails prior to our arrival in Corfu, and the service we received was top-notch. Captain Iakis and Vanessa really made our second visit to Corfu memorable. A private sail on Nautilus is a great way for friends to enjoy a fantastic excursion! I highly recommend it. Public Buses

Corfu Island has two bus lines:
- The Corfu City “Blue” bus serves Corfu Town and the suburban area.
- The inter-city, long-distance, KTEL “Green” bus serves the entire island of Corfu.

Corfu City “Blue” Buses

Corfu Local (Blue) Bus website = http://www.astikoktelkerkyras.gr/

Download the leaflet from http://www.astikoktelkerkyras.gr/img/leaflet_full.pdf

This leaflet is outstanding! I’ve included maps from it in this port guide.

Purchase tickets before boarding the bus from outlets near the bus stops (Vending machines, Stathmarcheio, Kiosks, etc.). Tickets purchased on the bus are a higher price. A round trip ticket is recommended. 2013 ticket prices were Zone rate 1.50 euros, Normal 1.10 euros.

Line 16 runs between the cruise ship terminal parking lot and the Old Port Square. I’ve read that when ships are in port, several of the bus lines also run this route to handle the high passenger volume.

The main station for the Corfu City Blue Bus is at San Rocco Square in Corfu Town.

There are several city bus lines/routes.

2a  Upper Square (Liston) – Cannon Pontikonissi  Photograph the monastery & “Mouse Island”
2b  San Rocco - Port – Kefalomandouko
4   River - Evropouli
5   Kynopiastes - Kouramades
6   Benitses  A fishing village with beautiful beaches
7   Dasia – Height  A tourist resort
8   Agios Ioannis – Afra  One of the largest water parks in Europe
10  Achillion  A gorgeous palace with beautiful gardens
11  Pelekas  A traditional village on a hill overlooking the entire island
14  Channels - Kompitsi
15  Airport - San Rocco Square (Center)-Port
16  Port – Cave  New Port cruise ship terminal to Old Port Square

I have not included the bus schedule in this port guide because it is subject to change. However, I have included maps from the leaflet to describe the bus routes.

The inter-city KTEL “Green” bus service connects Corfu Town with locations throughout the island including the most remote villages. The website is http://www.ktelkerkyras.gr/?module=default&pages_id=5&lang=el. I've read that this bus does not wait if it arrives at the stop early, so it is advisable to be at the bus stop at least 10 minutes before the scheduled time. Renting a Car in Corfu Rental cars are inexpensive, especially if you share the car or van with 4 or 6 people. I asked several people on our ship where they drove and how they felt about their rental car experience.

A family traveling with children told me the ship's excursions can be cost prohibitive for a family. Renting a car is inexpensive and gives them flexibility to explore the area near Corfu Town. They loved it.

A young couple said they buy books of road maps and research where they will drive. They were confident to drive north of Corfu Town to beaches and the Monastery of the Virgin Mary. Even though they got lost a few times, they enjoyed the car rental.

In 2010, we were on the Crown Princess with our good friends Carol and Bob Mills. They frequently rent cars at ports in Greece and Italy. Bob gets an International Drivers Permit from AAA for $24 because it is required in some countries e. g., Italy. The international permit is good for one year; the start date can be any day you specify. Bob also buys maps for his GPS for Greece and Italy ($100).

Carol booked a Fiat Multiplus 6 pax car for 90 Euros with Corfu Sunrise Rent A Car. The van was shared by 6 people (3-front, 3-rear). The plan was to drive to a general area, not to follow a precise route, exploring the sites and knowing the GPS will get them back. Carol said, “We headed out of the port into the country stopping at interesting places along the way toward Paleokastritsa. I would have loved to have seen more historical sights, but we opted to just see more of the island by driving around. It was fun. We had a blast!!

At the time the Mills rented a car, my wife and I joined a couple who had scheduled a 4-hour Corfu Taxi tour of sites outside of Corfu Town. The tour was fantastic!

In 2013, we were on the Ruby Princess. Gene Pearce sent me an email re Corfu Taxi; I recommended Corfu Taxi and suggested Vangelis as the driver. Gene took a taxi tour. I rented a van to drive part of the route of our 2010 taxi tour. I bought GPS Maps ($100) and an International Drivers Permit ($24). I was confident there would be no problems; I was carrying my GPS with programmed with all the stops. I had a plan.

I booked a 7-pax van with Corfu Sunrise Rent A Car info@corfusunrise.com a month before our cruise. Cost was 99 euros plus 18 euros gas. For 6 people, that's about ~20 euros or $27 USD/person.

It's a 9-minute, 750 meter walk from the Cruise Terminal to the Corfu Sunrise Rent A Car office (map at right). Use these coordinates to plot the map:

Cruise terminal = N 39° 37' 44.53", E 19° 54' 3.92"
Port gate = N 39° 37' 37.12", E 19° 54' 14.12"
Rental office = N 39° 37' 41.52", E 19° 54' 2.06"

It took about 20-minutes to rent the van because of the number of people in line. We got a beautiful, huge, Mercedes van with a manual transmission.

It was easy to navigate the main road toward Paleokastritsa. However, the road became narrow when we left the main road and headed north into the mountains. At some intersections, there were multiple roads and it wasn't clear, even with the GPS, which road to take. There were no signs I could read, and I made some wrong turns. I found myself mumbling, “This can't be a 'real' road; it looks like a private drive to an olive grove.”

It took a long time, but we finally arrived at the mountain overlook of St George Bay. When leaving the overlook, I had to turn around on the narrow mountain road. My wife was terrified (and I was uneasy) we'd slip over the cliff when I backed up the huge, manual transmission, Mercedes van on the narrow mountain road.

Our next stop was the Monastery of the Virgin Mary. There was no place to park. I drove around the lot several times and finally parked on the grass. I walked up the hill to the entrance. As I approached, the doors closed. We were told the monastery would be closed for prayers for at least an hour, so we left.

Corfu-03-23-2017
My next plan was to drive to Old Town Corfu thinking I could park so we could walk around the town. Traffic in the Old Town area was incredible. It was bumper to bumper scooters and cars with many pedestrians. There was no place to park, so we left. I stopped to fill the tank with gas and returned the van.

The van was fine, but the driving experience was very frustrating for all of us. It was NOT fun!

Corfu Taxi Tour http://www.corfutaxitours.com/ - comments by Gene Pearce _in 2013, we booked a private tour with Corfu Taxi Tours. I requested Vangelis Koulouris as our driver. The tour was awesome. We met Vangelis at the dock; he explained the various places and things we could do during the day and asked what we wanted to see and do. He wanted to make sure we were doing and seeing things that we wanted during our time with him rather than taking us on a pre-planned tour of the island. Several times during the day, he asked if we wanted to make any adjustments to our plan and provided options. He wanted to make sure that we were able to pick and choose how we spent our day with him._

What a day. He took us to places tour buses cannot go. We walked through tiny villages and olive groves. We stood on high points with incredible vistas. We walked along the beach and ate lunch along the crystal waters of the Bay of Paleokastritsa.

If you want to do a "canned" tour with a crowd, take the bus tours. If you want to spend the day doing what makes you happy, book with Corfu Taxi Tours.

Comparison of my Corfu Taxi Tour in 2010 Vs. my Car/van Rental in 2013

- The taxi tour is more expensive than car rental, but lower cost than a ship's excursion. Cost is around 200 euros, plus tip, for a four or five hour tour. That's 100 euros/person with 2 people. In 2010, we shared a taxi, with 4 people = 50 euros/person
- The taxi tour is very time efficient. In 2010, Vangelis picked us up early at the cruise terminal. We went to St George Bay, spent half an hour at the Monastery of the Virgin Mary, walked the beach in Paleokastritsa, stopped for coffee at a restaurant with breathtaking views, stopped for photos of Angelokastro, made various stops for views and photos of scenic areas including flowers along the mountain roads, spent half an hour at Achilleion Palace, and returned to Corfu Old Town with time to walk the streets, shop, and take a bus back to the ship. That's a lot to see and do in one day!!!
- The taxi tour is zero stress. Unlike driving a rental car, you don't have to watch the road, worry about which way to turn, or find a place to park. Spend your time enjoying the beautiful views and discover places you would never find on your own.
- The taxi drops you off beside the tourist site eliminating unnecessary walking and climbing! The ship's excursion buses and rental cars park in the lot; you have to walk uphill to many tourist sites.
- Taxis can travel the narrow roads taking you to places buses can't travel. The taxi can also make photo stops at a roadside. Buses rarely stop for photos; it takes 20 minutes for people to get off the bus.
- The taxi tour is tailored specifically to your interests. Go where you want and spend time as you choose. There are many possibilities.
- We were lucky to have Vangelis Koulouris as our driver. He is passionate about, and teaches, photography. He knows where all the postcard photo spots are. The next time I visit Corfu, I'd like to join a few people who love photography and book a photo-shoot tour with Vangelis as our driver.
- Imagine the possibilities – touring the breathtakingly beautiful island of Corfu with Vangelis planning the stops for our postcard photos. WOW!!!
A Private “Photo Shoot” of a Beautiful Island on Your Shore Excursion!

Luckily, there is a tour guide, Vangelis Koulouris, who is a professional photographer. He's photographed every square inch of Corfu from the air and land. His impressive resume includes an aerial video of Corfu for the Port Authority. See Corfu the Garden of Gods. It’s a testimonial to Vangelis’s incredible artistic talent.

Imagine the possibilities for a “photo shoot” on your private tour of Corfu. Vangelis will help you "see the island though a photographer's eye" with tips on where, and how, to take postcard photos.

Corfu tour companies and guides have similar names. To get Vangelis as your driver/guide, book a tour with Spiros Kritikos, owner of Corfu Taxi Tours at http://www.corfutaxitours.com/ and ask for Vangelis, the professional photographer.

"Vangelis Koulouris and Spiros Kritikos are 5-star rated for their customer focus and ability to provide tours that memories are made of. I highly recommend them.”

Tourist Sites SOUTH of Corfu Town

Mon-Repos Palace
GPS = N 39°36′22.7″, E 19°55′34.1″
Mon-Repos Palace was built in the early 1800's. It has been used by British dignitaries, governors, and is the birthplace of Prince Phillip, Duke of Edinburgh. It is located on top of a hill believed to be the original site of the ancient city of Corfu.

The palace is in a 250-acre park with tree-lined paths. It's a great place to have a relaxing walk, and dogs are permitted in the park. Exhibits in the palace include works of art, furniture, clothing, Byzantine remains, and artifacts.

Hours are 8:30–15:00, Tuesday-Sunday. Admission is free.

Vlacherna Monastery  Corfu City Blue Bus #2a stops in this area.

The Vlacherna women's monastery has an iconic, white chapel dating back to 1685. It's open to the public.

Mouse Island
GPS = N 39°35′11.1″, E 19°55′03.9″

Mouse (Pontikonisi) Island is a tiny, uninhabited island. It used to be the site for Pantokrator monastery with white marble stairs ascending the hill. Viewed from a distance, the white staircase stands out among the trees and appears to be the “tail” of a mouse, hence the name “mouse island”.

Achilleion Palace  N 39°33′45.7″, E 19°54′15.4″

For details and a virtual tour, see  http://www.achillion-corfu.gr/default_en.html

The palace was built for Empress Elizabeth of Austria. It is a beautiful building with a very impressive interior, decorations, artwork, and gorgeous formal gardens.

It's 10 km south of Corfu Town. Corfu City Blue Bus #10 goes to “Achilleion” also spelled as “Achillion”.

Photos of Achilleion Palace

We spent about half an hour at the palace.
I highly recommend visiting it.

Finding a parking spot can be a problem, but we were on a taxi tour; our driver waited for us at the entrance gate.

Hours are 08:00-17:00 during the summer.
It's less crowded in the afternoon.
Adult admission is 8 Euros.

Bus #11  Pelekas

Pelekas is the village that has something for everyone. Whether you are looking for sandy beaches and tavernas fringed by timeless olive groves; water-sports and nightlife; traditional food and drink; budget or top class accommodation; you will always find a warm welcome in Pelekas. For more than 40 years Pelekas has been a favourite hideaway for independent holiday makers.

At the northern edge of the village of Pelekas, there is a raised platform called “Kaiser's Throne” named after Emperor Kaiser Wilhelm II. He used the observation platform for a panoramic view of the island, the beaches, and spectacular sunsets. View the area from the raised platform or the Sunset Restaurant and Kaiser's bar. See a virtual tour of Pelekas including the view from Kaiser's Throne at http://www.pelekas.com/index.html

Bus #8  Agios Ionnis, visit Aqualand, a huge water park  GPS = N 39°37'02.5", E 19°50'14.8"

http://www.aqualand-corfu.com/

Aqualand is equipped with all kinds of water attractions and has many facilities. It's surrounded by green forests. A total area of 75000 square meters makes this water oasis pleasant and enjoyable even in the hottest days of the summer. Relax under our beautiful maple trees or enjoy the thrill of our multislides. We cater to all your needs. That's why Aqualand is acknowledged as one of the best waterparks in Europe.
Google calculates the round-trip driving route from the ship as a 1 hour and 40 minute drive and a distance of 64.5 km. That's probably true if you don't get lost. Based on my experience, I'd recommend you avoid the drive through the narrow, winding, confusing roads going up the mountain to the St George Bay overlook.

The drive from the Cruise Terminal to Paleokastritsa and Lakones is fairly straightforward.

B Corfu Ceramics and Pottery Workshop is on the main road from Corfu Town toward Paleokastritsa. It's easy to find on the right side of the road, especially if you use a GPS with these coordinates N 39° 40' 24.67", E 19° 48' 54.85". NOTE: The website has a video showing the drive to the workshop because their street address is not recognized by Google, the world leader in electronic maps.

However, if you use my GPS coordinates in Google Maps you can see the location of the workshop at the down-pointing green arrow on the map at right.

D Taverna & Souvenirs GPS = N 39° 41' 24.17", E 19° 43' 20.47"

I turned right from the road to Paleokastritsa and headed north to climb the mountains. At first, the road was fine. It was like a “real” road. Then it became narrow and began to twist and turn, going up and down. The intersections were confusing with many small roads joining at the same spot. This type of road intersection is not permitted where I live in Central Pennsylvania.

Even though my Garmin GPS was pointing the way, I wasn't sure. I spotted a small Taverna on a side road (photo below). We stopped for directions, a drink, and to use the toilets.

There was a guide I had seen at the cruise port. He was leading a group of people on all terrain vehicles from the cruise port to the beach at St George Bay. I asked him how to find the overlook on the mountain road to view St George Bay.

His said, “There is no overlook, you have to go to the beach.” I said, “I know there is an overlook, I was there in 2010 on a taxi tour.” He sent me to talk to the owner of the taverna. The main said, “Go west on the road from here, look for the radio towers high above the mountains, and drive to the towers.”

E St George Bay Overlook GPS = N 39° 42' 2.90", E 19° 41' 36.68"

The man was right. After leaving the Taverna, I only made one wrong turn, recognized the error, and turned abound. My passengers argued, “This can't be a road, we must be going the wrong way.” I forged on. We actually were going the correct way, and finally found the overlook to St George Bay.
The mountain ranges in Albania are North and East of Corfu Island. The scenic outlook for St George Bay (map above right) is high on a mountain ridge. This gives you an impressive view of the bay, the small islands, and the Albanian mountains.

F Angelokastro  Castle of the Angels  GPS =  N 39°40′42.7″, E 19°41′12.6″

Historians debate whether it is wrongly named “Castle of the Angels” arguing it was named after a man “Angleokastro”. But they do agree it was one of the most important Byzantine military complexes in Greece. It is located on the highest peak on the shoreline of Corfu Island, an excellent vantage point to survey the Southern Adriatic. The castle is believed to date back to early 1200's. The castle is near Paleokastritsa which means “old castle place” in Greek.

We stopped at the roadside to photograph it. Some tourists climb the steep path to the top to enjoy awesome views of the area.

G Golden Fox Complex  GPS =  N 39°40′44.4″, E 19°41′53.2″

This is one the resorts with breathtaking views, a restaurant, and a souvenir shop with table linens, rugs, hand carved olive wood pieces, and other souvenirs. It is located in Lakones – Paleokastritsa. The Mills Party had lunch at the restaurant. The website is http://www.corfugoldenfox.com/

H Monastery of Virgin Mary  GPS =  N 39°40′10.3″, E 19°42′05.4″

The Monastery in Paleokastritsa is dedicated to Panagia (Virgin Mary). It dates back to the early 1200s. The location is high on a cliff overlooking the sea. There are beautiful gardens, a church, and a bookstore/gift shop. The nuns feed the cats in the gardens. We spent a half hour at the monastery during our taxi tour in 2010.

One of the advantages of arriving in a cab is that the driver drops you off at the top of the hill, next to the entrance, and waits for you. If you arrive in a car or bus, you park in the lot and walk up the hill. Also, based on my 2013 experience, parking space is limited and you may have difficulty finding a place to park. You could walk from the parking lot in town near the beach, but that's a long way uphill.

One of the paintings (photo at left). My wife likes cats. She thought the gardens were “purr-fect” (photo below).
The monastery is a beautiful, peaceful, place to visit. The architecture and paintings are impressive, and the gardens are very relaxing. It's at the top of a hill with great views of the area.

Location of the Monastery of the Virgin Mary

The monastery is on the top of a hill at the far, west end of Paleokastritsa. Although I wouldn't do it, you can walk from the beach parking lot up the hill to the Monastery of the Virgin Mary. Google estimates it is a 700 meter (2275 feet) walk from the beach parking lot to the monastery. The elevation change is 100 feet. Walking from the beach to the monastery is like walking 2275 feet to the top of a 10-story building. With her arthritic knees, my wife couldn't walk up that hill, and I wouldn't want to. There are parking areas near the top of the hill, but you still have to walk uphill a short distance. Taxis park right next to the monastery entrance.

There is a traffic light near point “A” on the map that controls vehicles for one-way, alternating between cars going up the hill, or coming down the hill.

The area near the beach is drop-dead gorgeous. See the photos on the next page.

NOTE: There are about 40 beaches on Corfu Island. I believe there are four beaches in Paleokastritsa. These are photos of the main beach at the far west end of Paleokastritsa near the entrance to the Monastery of the Virgin Mary. This beach is described as the “most beautiful and popular” on Corfu Island.

The village of Paleokastritsa is 2.8 Km (1.7 miles) from west to east. I have outlined the borders of the village with yellow lines on the map below. The beaches and marina are at the west end of the village. Lakones is directly north of Paleokastritsa.

I have also shown the Golden Fox Complex hotel and restaurant and the Akrotiri Beach Hotel. The bus stop shown is for the Inter-City Green Bus line to/from Corfu. This is the location reported on the internet. The bus runs every half hour and the ride from Corfu is 45 minutes. GPS coordinates for this bus stop are N 39°40'29.4", E 19°42'43.7"

J Akrotiri Beach Hotel  GPS = N 39°40′21.6″, E 19°42′57.1″
It's a 4-star hotel on a peninsula in Paleokastritsa, on Agia Triada Beach. See http://www.akrotiri-beach.com/photo-gallery-corfu-hotel.aspx

Carol Mills stopped in this area for photographs (below). The scenery is gorgeous.

Paleokastritsa is the most picturesque area of the island and is situated 24 km northwest from the Town of Corfu. The cliffs divide the coastline into 6 sandy bays where the emerald color of the rich vegetation reaches the shoreline and meets the blue sea. This is a place of dramatic beauty and romance where, according to the legend, Nausika rescued the castaway Odysseus. The hotel is situated on a peninsula, "Akrotiri" in Greek. On the west side of the hotel “Agia Triada” beach is an organized public beach where our guests have immediate access through the lift and a few steps. On the east side of the hotel, the “Rocky Beach” is made up of small platforms on the hillside. This spot is ideal for the lovers of nature and for a peaceful swim.

Photos and Comments from Gene Pearce RE his Corfu Taxi Tour

After St George Bay, we stopped at a tiny village and followed a path through an olive grove to an overlook of the sea. It was beautiful.

The taxi drove up a narrow road to a small taverna with an open patio on the cliffs on the north side of Angelokastro. We enjoyed a drink and views of the castle, the cliffs, and sea.

The next stop was at a small shop along the road. The owners gave us samples of products to taste including their wines. We purchased a runner for our dining room table.
Our lunch stop was in Paleokastritsa with a full view of the bay.

We made a photo stop at a rock with a single tree growing from the top. There was a small bar below to the right and a sheer cliff. A man climbed up to a perch with the aid of a rope attached to the cliff. I watched him jump off the cliff. Pretty amazing.

Vangelis dropped us off in Old Town Corfu. We had time to explore the town before returning to the ship. It was an excellent taxi tour.

Corfu is a Green Island

Unlike most Greek Islands, Cofu has lush, green foliage. There were flowers along the highway in the mountains. These photos were taken on May 25, 2010 and May 20, 2013.
Goats were grazing along the road.

Foliage in the mountains was a rich, deep green color.

Corfu impresses me as a tranquil, beautiful island with many things to see and do. Corfu was a favorite, visited by kings, queens, and aristocrats for hundreds of years for good reason. It's a spectacularly, beautiful island. Spending some vacation time on Corfu is on my bucket list.

I would like to thank Vangelis Koulouris for permitting me to use some of his photos in the following section of this port guide to showcase the diverse, breathtaking beauty of Corfu.

User Feedback Is Welcome

Goal
My guides are designed to help you plan a great cruise vacation by providing information such as where the ship docks, location of tourist sites, public transit, walking tour maps, things to see and do, travel issues unique to the port, etc. Knowledge of ports is important when planning shore excursions because you have to make many decisions and commitments long before your ship docks. I believe the information in this guide is accurate, however you are responsible to verify accuracy of the information that you use to plan your vacation.

Information on cruise ports frequently changes such as bus routes, admission fees to sites, rental car locations, etc. Cruise Critic is the best source for up-to-date, detailed information on travel details for shore excursions, reviews of cruise ships, etc. There are many knowledgeable people on Cruise Critic who are willing to share their expertise and travel experience. I highly recommend www.CruiseCritic.com; it's free to join.

Why feedback is important
User feedback helps me make corrections and improve the format and content in my quest to produce the “ultimate” port guides. I welcome offers to collaborate with me or provide materials for use in my guides.

PLEASE Help “spread the word” about my website
The only negative feedback I get is, “I wish I knew about your port guides before my vacation”. Please tell your friends and post a reference to my guides and website on the blogs. To receive email notification when new guides are available, send your email address to me at TomsPortGuides@gmail.com

PERMITTED USE: Personal, non-commercial use of my port guides and/or material from my website.
I allow individuals to take my guides apart for personal, non-commercial use. Many cruisers carry a map or a few pages from my guide on a shore excursion. That's OK. I also allow people to post my guides on websites they set up for fellow travelers to share information on shore excursions such as the websites set up by Cruise Critic members for the Roll Calls. That's OK. My guides are for use and enjoyment of individual travelers.

PROHIBITED USE of my port guides and/or material from my website.
NO person, company, organization, website, etc. is permitted to use material from my website for a commercial purpose, to sell, require a membership to download my port guides, or use my copyrighted material for a commercial purpose.

NO person, company, organization, website, etc. is permitted to distribute excerpts from my guides or material from my website as electronic, digital, or paper copies. My Port Guides must be kept intact, as downloaded from my website, with this copyright notice.

NO Cruise Ship employee, representative, contractor, port lecturer, etc. is permitted to distribute excerpts from my guides or material from my website as electronic, digital or paper copies. My Port Guides must be kept intact, as downloaded from my website, with this copyright notice. A blatant example of violation of my copyright was a cruise ship docked in Copenhagen where the shore excursion desk personnel removed maps from my guide, removed my name as the copyright owner, and copied/distributed my maps.

Fortunately, a friend of mine on that ship complained to the purser and the ship stopped violating my copyright.
